III. MAJOR REASONS FOR THE ESTIMATED LOSS IN RESULTS FOR THE PERIOD

(1) Decline in Operating Results

Amid the impact of the COVID-19 epidemic that takes place at home and abroad, the Company gradually resumed its work and production at the end of March. Although the Company has been actively promoting the resumption of work and production and accelerated the construction progress, the overall scale of operating income and profitability still declined significantly as compared with the same period last year. Operating income dropped by 25%, and gross profit margin decreased from 10.56% to approximately 8.5%.

According to the relevant regulations under the Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises of the PRC and the accounting policies and accounting estimates implemented by the Company, it is estimated that the provision for impairment of accounts receivable and contract assets is approximately RMB1.3 billion.

1. Accounts receivable

Due to the impact of the epidemic and thus difficulties in making payments by certain customers, such payment delays have led to an increase in the age of current accounts. The provision for impairment made for the year according to the age of the accounts is relatively large, and the provision for impairment of accounts receivable is approximately RMB900 million.

2. Contract assets

Based on the current status of contract assets as at the end of 2020 and future forecasts, the Company has made a provision for impairment of approximately RMB400 million.
